

Wanhuida Partner speaks at Berkeley roundtable

Time: Feb 02
2023

On Thursday, 2nd February 2023, the Berkeley Center for Law & Technology (BCLT) hosts a virtual Roundtable on Revisions to the China Trademark Law via Zoom.

The roundtable is moderated by Mark A. Cohen, Asia IP Project Director, Berkeley Center for Law & Technology (BCLT). Yongjian Lei, Partner of Wanhuida Intellectual Property shares his insights regarding the CNIPA draft amendment at the roundtable.

The event attracts over 150 attendees worldwide.

Yongjian Lei speaks at the roundtable

Established in 1995, BCLT has been the focal point at the University of California, Berkeley, School of Law for teaching, research, conferences, and student activities on issues at the intersection of law and technology. Its mission is to foster the beneficial and ethical advancement of technology by guiding the development of intellectual property law, information privacy law, and related areas of law and public policy as they interact with business, science, and technical innovation.